

SCOUTS CANADA STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES

SECTION 12000 – PERSONAL INFORMATION PROTECTION

12000 – PROCEDURES AND GUIDING PRINCIPLES:

Scouts Canada is committed to respecting the privacy of our members, their families and our employees, by adhering to the privacy principles set forth in Schedule 1 of The Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act. Those principles are:

12000.1 – Accountability:

The Executive Commissioner and Chief Executive Officer is accountable to the Board of Governors for compliance with this policy. The Scouts Canada Risk Manager and the Council Executive Directors are responsible for the management of the policy including the guiding principles and procedures.

12000.2 – Identifying Purposes:

Scouts Canada only collects personal information necessary to provide attentive and responsible youth programs, meet the individual development needs of each prospective member, member and employee, provide emergency health care, ensure a safe and secure environment and meet applicable regulations. Name, address, birth date and information concerning registration, activities, events and honours and awards received form a permanent record for members and employees. All other information is only kept as long as required to fulfill the purposes identified, unless permission is obtained from the individual providing the information.

12000.3 – Consent:

All members will have the ability to consent to the uses of their personal information. A prospective member, member or employee of Scouts Canada grants, through the act of registering, consent to use of personal information by Scouts Canada members and employees for the purposes of tracking attendance and progress, informing members and/or their parents or guardians of Scouting activities and for analysis. Prospective members, members and employees will have the opportunity, beginning in the 2001-2002 registration period, to select at any time whether they wish to be informed of fundraising and other member benefits not specifically related to their Scouting program and whether information other than name, address, birth date and information concerning registration, performance, activities, events and honours and awards received be kept for a longer period of time. Scouts Canada will assume consent is granted unless a member indicates otherwise.

12000.4 – Limiting Collection:

Scouts Canada will explain the purposes for collecting each piece of personal information. If it is necessary to use the personal information collected for a purpose not identified when the information was collected, consent for the new use will be obtained from prospective members, members or employees.

12000.5 – Limiting Use, Disclosure and Retention:

Scouts Canada will use the personal information obtained from prospective members, members and employees only for the purposes for which it was collected and will not disclose the information for other purposes, except as required by applicable law.

All personal information provided to Scouts Canada will be maintained in a secure manner to ensure that its use is limited to the purposes for which it was collected.

Name, address, birth date and information concerning registration, performance, activities, events and honours and awards received will be retained by Scouts Canada permanently. Other personal information will be retained by Scouts Canada for whatever periods are required by legislation governing our operation and/or the information provided, after which time (unless consent is given to keep information for a longer period) the information will be destroyed in a secure manner. If there is no legislative requirement to retain other information, it will be kept for 18 months from the time it was provided.

12000.6 – Accuracy:

Members will have the ability to review data provided on an application for membership at any time through the Scouts Canada Membership Management System. Individuals may, on presentation of a document establishing their identity to the Council Executive Director responsible for the individual's geographic area, be able to find out whether personal information is on file with Scouts Canada and, if so, consult it free of charge. A request may also be made in writing or by telephone to view information. A reasonable charge may apply for the transcription, reproduction or transmission of the information.

12000.7 – Safeguards:

Scouts Canada will assess and implement appropriate measures to properly protect personal data. These measures will be subject to independent audit to ensure their effectiveness.

12000.8 – Openness:

This policy and the processes and procedures for obtaining access to personal information will be available to any individual through Scouts Canada's web site and
