

Plan:

- When and where will you pursue your certification?
- What level of certification will you pursue?
- What is your Crew's budget for this Adventure?
- What medical conditions might affect getting a new scuba certification?

Do:

- Get scuba certified!

Review:

- What do you know now that you did not know before?
- How did you feel before, during and after this Adventure?
- What was the biggest challenge, personally and as a Crew, for this Adventure?
- How did your instructor handle the group? What might you do differently if you were the instructor? Why?
- How can you build on this experience?

Safety note:

Only dive within the limits of your training, and learn under the instruction of certified professionals.

Online Resources:

- PADI
- Outdoor Adventure Skills
- Scuba Diving: How to Get Certified

It starts with Scouts.

Scuba Certification

Active & Healthy Living

The Adventure:

Are there Rover Scouts in your Crew who want to try scuba diving, but have never had the opportunity? Why not register together to learn become certified divers?

What about the Rovers in your Crew who are already certified divers? If there's a common certification among a number of Rovers, you can register together to pursue the next level of certification offered by PADI (Professional Association of Diving Instructors).

The more Rovers there are in your Crew who are certified scuba divers, the more opportunities you'll find you have to plan dive trips, or to include diving in other Adventures your Crew plans.

Canadianpath.ca

R-15

It starts with Scouts.

Plan:

- When and where will you pursue your certification?
- What level of certification will you pursue?
- What is your Crew's budget for this Adventure?
- What medical conditions might affect getting a new scuba certification?

Do:

- Get scuba certified!

Review:

- What do you know now that you did not know before?
- How did you feel before, during and after this Adventure?
- What was the biggest challenge, personally and as a Crew, for this Adventure?
- How did your instructor handle the group? What might you do differently if you were the instructor? Why?
- How can you build on this experience?

Safety note:

Only dive within the limits of your training, and learn under the instruction of certified professionals.

Online Resources:

- PADI
- Outdoor Adventure Skills
- Scuba Diving: How to Get Certified

It starts with Scouts.

Scuba Certification

Active & Healthy Living

The Adventure:

Are there Rover Scouts in your Crew who want to try scuba diving, but have never had the opportunity? Why not register together to learn become certified divers?

What about the Rovers in your Crew who are already certified divers? If there's a common certification among a number of Rovers, you can register together to pursue the next level of certification offered by PADI (Professional Association of Diving Instructors).

The more Rovers there are in your Crew who are certified scuba divers, the more opportunities you'll find you have to plan dive trips, or to include diving in other Adventures your Crew plans.

Canadianpath.ca

R-15

It starts with Scouts.