

Plan:

- When is JOTI held? How can you find out?
- Where will your Troop meet for the event? What equipment do you need?
- What do you know about online etiquette? How can you find out more?
- What would you like the world to know about your Scout Troop?
- What would you like to learn about Scouting in other parts of the world?

Do:

- Get online and take part in Jamboree on the Internet!

Review:

- What do you know now that you did not know before?
- What did others want to know about Canada and your Scout Troop?
- With what parts of the world did you make contact?
- How did you feel before, during and after this adventure?
- What would you do differently next time?

Safety Note:

When communicating with strangers online, what information is okay to share, and what should you keep private?

Online Resources:

- Talk to the World
- Jamboree on the Air—Jamboree on the Internet (WOSM)
- Jamboree on the Internet

Canadianpath.ca

Jamboree on the Internet

RIDEAU TRAIL
Citizenship

The Adventure:

Relatively few Scouts are lucky enough to attend a World Jamboree. These jamborees only take place every four years, and they are often held very far from Canada. Traveling to a World Jamboree can be expensive and challenging for some. Even if you can attend a World Jamboree, it's fun to stay connected with Scouts around the world between jamborees.

However, none of these disadvantages hamper Jamborees on the Internet (JOTI). A Jamboree on the Internet costs almost nothing, doesn't limit the number who can take part and can be enjoyed by almost any Scouting member without leaving the neighbourhood.

It starts with Scouts.

Plan:

- When is JOTI held? How can you find out?
- Where will your Troop meet for the event? What equipment do you need?
- What do you know about online etiquette? How can you find out more?
- What would you like the world to know about your Scout Troop?
- What would you like to learn about Scouting in other parts of the world?

Do:

- Get online and take part in Jamboree on the Internet!

Review:

- What do you know now that you did not know before?
- What did others want to know about Canada and your Scout Troop?
- With what parts of the world did you make contact?
- How did you feel before, during and after this adventure?
- What would you do differently next time?

Safety Note:

When communicating with strangers online, what information is okay to share, and what should you keep private?

Online Resources:

- Talk to the World
- Jamboree on the Air—Jamboree on the Internet (WOSM)
- Jamboree on the Internet

Canadianpath.ca

Jamboree on the Internet

RIDEAU TRAIL
Citizenship

The Adventure:

Relatively few Scouts are lucky enough to attend a World Jamboree. These jamborees only take place every four years, and they are often held very far from Canada. Traveling to a World Jamboree can be expensive and challenging for some. Even if you can attend a World Jamboree, it's fun to stay connected with Scouts around the world between jamborees.

However, none of these disadvantages hamper Jamborees on the Internet (JOTI). A Jamboree on the Internet costs almost nothing, doesn't limit the number who can take part and can be enjoyed by almost any Scouting member without leaving the neighbourhood.

It starts with Scouts.