The Adventure:
The first thing that many people think of when they hear communication are words. Whether online, on the phone, or in person, we do a lot of talking to communicate with each other. As a Lair, come up with a story and use materials to make puppets! But here’s the catch: your puppets aren’t allowed to talk when you’re putting on your puppet shows. You need to show the other Lair what you can communicate, without words.

Safety Note:
Be careful when using scissors to cut paper! Ask for help if you need it.

Plan:
• How are you going to tell your story without any words?
• What story will you tell?
• How do we communicate with each other?
• What role will everyone take on for the show?
• What materials do you need to make your puppets?
• How will you practise the show before you perform in front of the group?

Do:
• Make sure that everyone knows what they need to do during your show.
• Perform your story using the puppets you made.
• Remember, no talking allowed!

Review:
• What do you know now that you did not know before?
• How do you know what someone is feeling just by seeing them?
• How will this help you be a leader?
• How did you make sure everyone in your group took part and had fun?
