

SCOUTS YLT

Lonely, Boring Puzzle

RED COAT TRAIL

Leadership: Teamwork

The Adventure:

1. Split up into Patrol-sized groups, and pick someone who most wants to solve a puzzle.
2. Give that person a medium-sized puzzle to solve, but only that person solves it, while the rest of your Patrol just watches. Allow up to ten minutes.
3. Then do a second round with everyone solving a different, similar puzzle together.

Safety Note:

Resist judging or criticizing the person solving the puzzle alone. Even well-intentioned advice can hurt someone's feelings when under pressure. Be positive and supportive!

Plan:

- Which puzzle will you do for the first and second round?
- Who will do the puzzle alone on the first round?

Do:

- Have fun, and really try to solve the puzzle on both rounds.

Review:

- What do you know now that you did not know before?
- What did you like and not like about the first round?
- What did you like and dislike about the second round?
- How can this relate to real-world Patrol work? (Think of the puzzle as a metaphor.)
