The Adventure:
Flipping a tarp is pretty easy, right? Well, not if you have a bunch of people standing on it! For this activity, you will need to split into groups of 10 and designate a leader. The teams must flip the tarp over without anyone stepping off.

Plan:
• What style of leadership would work best in this situation?
• How are you going to flip the tarp?

Do:
• Designate a leader and try to flip the tarp your team is standing on. Take turns so that everyone can be the leader.
• If the group is not successful, switch the team leader and try again.
• Have each group rotate through each person so everybody has a turn as team leader.

Review:
• What do you know now that you did not know before?
• What made a leader have a successful team?
• How can a different style of leadership affect the success of the team?
• What worked? What didn’t?

Online Resources:
Leadership Styles

Safety Note:
What clothing and footwear is most appropriate for this activity?