What You Will Discover

Find out what it's like to be the traveler, the flight attendant and the pilot! Prepare for your next international adventure.

The Adventure

Dream big: within your Section teams, pick your dream destination(s). Create a boarding pass with all of the correct information, set the scene and make your own pretend plane in your meeting hall, and maybe even take on an important role in your dream destination scenario. Bon voyage!

It starts with Scouts.

Plan

- Where would you visit?
- What would you need to visit your dream destination?
- What props and materials do you need for this activity?
- How can you travel sustainably?
- What maps or factbooks could you use to help you find locations and distances?

Do

Using #ScoutsDoStuff, share your dream adventures with your friends, family and the community!

Review

- What are the most difficult parts of traveling?
- Which role(s) did you enjoy?
- After hearing from peers, where else would you like to visit?
- Air travel is a huge polluter. How can you travel with less of an impact?

Safety Note

What can you do to make sure that you're using props and supplies safely?

Try this

Keep it Simple

- How far away is your dream destination? Do you have to get there by plane? Try roleplaying some other methods of traveling: like train, bus or car, depending on where you are going. Do you need your passport? If so, take your picture and make your own pretend passport.

Take it Further

- From a packing list to a daily schedule, make a detailed itinerary for your dream adventure. How could you make this dream into a reality? With help from your Scouters, plan out exactly what your Section would need to do in order to take on an international adventure!
