

Standing up for human rights and being an active citizen in government structures are two of the key elements of this goal. As Canadians, this means ensuring that everyone feels safe and secure, has equal access to justice and are supported by effective, accountable and transparent institutions. Want to get involved with this goal? How about running an anti-bullying campaign, taking on a leadership role with younger youth or planning a good turn marathon to see how many people you can help through your actions.

PEACE, JUSTICE AND STRONG INSTITUTIONS

Scouts is the Start of a Peaceful Society

DID YOU KNOW?

38% of Canadian women and 64% of Canadian men feel very safe while walking alone in their neighbourhood after dark.

Youth age 15–24 sign petitions, attend demonstrations, and share their views on social media more than any other age group in Canada.

In the last federal election, 66% of eligible voters cast their ballot.

IN THE FIELD

Scouts Stand Together

Scouts stand together by celebrating #PinkShirtDay to end bullying and promote kindness in their communities. "Bullying has no place in Scouting; it goes against the Scouting Movement's beliefs, values and code of conduct. As Scouts, we promise to stand up against bullying. How? By seeking help from adults, like your Scouter, and keeping them informed if you or someone else is being bullied. Scouts stand together, and with a unified front we can speak up, offer help and prevent bullying when it happens around us."

It's a Peace of Cake If We Work Together!

ARE YOU UP FOR THE CHALLENGE?

What does a peaceful world look like to you? What does peace mean to you?

What needs to be changed in your community for it to be 100% peaceful?

What's your favourite way to brighten someone's day?

FURTHER AFIELD

- Celebrate International Peace Day and use WOSM's Peace Day Project plan to explore;
- Explore the Play It Fair Toolkit for Kids;
- Use your creativity to create Poems for Peace alongside UNICEF—for every child;
- Join The Peace Crane Project and spread positivity and joy through the wings of origami cranes around the world!

SCOUT READY

- Discrimination Tower
- Identity Flower
- Who You Are
- What is Fair?
- Serious Structure
- Scout Election
- Right to Vote
- Where do we Stand

Take on a Messengers of Peace project through WOSM